ADELAIDE HILLS

2017 “SIROCCO” CHARDONNAY

Colour: Medium to pale green, straw tints

Aroma: Restrained yet complex at the same time, this wine displays typical Adelaide Hills white peach and grapefruit as well as some cashew-like characters, hints of struck match and a little cream in the background.

Palate: The palate displays some lovely fine textures and flavours with white peach, cashew and cream the main components. Good acidity also adds length and ensures a clean, dry finish.

Summary: The Adelaide Hills is one of The premier Chardonnay producing regions in Australia and this wine will do no harm to this reputation. The 2017 “Sirocco” adds to the growing list of terrific Chardonnays we have produced from our Lenswood site since 2001. Drink now and over next 5-8 years. Great with something like pan fried snapper fillet or roast free range chicken.
